

Rands Training is an unconventional educational center in many ways. Modern training rooms, full of light and with beautiful views, led us to the idea of making the most of the white walls a little bit differently than by covering them with bookshelves.

So, welcome to our small art gallery, through which we offer artists across the world of art the opportunity to show their work and by which we are trying to create a fresh and inspiring environment for all who meet at Rands Training.

From 9 February to 31 May 2015 the following exhibition can be visited on the premises of Rands Training:

"Although Law and Art may seem as water and fire at first sight, we believe that on our premises both worlds will find a compromise from which, all the people who meet at Rands Training will benefit."
